You might see some communities offer their services a la carte, and you're billed for the number of times you or your loved one needs assistance with each activity of daily living (ADL) in addition to a base rent. We want each resident to get the care and support they need, without worrying about hidden costs or fees at the end of the month. That's why our monthly prices are all inclusive, so you know exactly what to expect. We look at how many activities each resident needs assistance with and how frequently they need that assistance to decide what tier of care they need. Each tier has its own price, and residents can move between the tiers as their needs change. If you have questions about the tier pricing, we're here to help.
